DISPATCH OF NOTE MAY BE ON CABLES BY THIS TIME; WILL BE THE FINAL ANSWER

FRENCH REACH JUNCTION OF AISNE AND SUIPPE

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—President Wilson's reply to the German and Austrian request for an armistice and peace negotiations probably will be dispatched before tonight if it is not already on the cables.

After being called into conference by the President with Colonel House and Secretary Lansing, Secretary Tumulty announced today that Mr. Lansing would see the newspaper correspondents at 4 o'clock and "probably would have something for them."

None of those in the President's confidence would give an intimation of his decision but when the conference was over there was no change in the confident belief throughout official circles that an armistice would be flatly refused and the Central Powers informed that unequivocal acceptance of conditions laid down by the United States and the Allies must precede any meeting of peace plenipotentiaries.

The President, it was believed today, has preceded actual sending of the reply by asking Premiers Lloyd George, Clemenceau and Orlando to advise him of their answers or by submitting to the premiers a draft of his reply for approval. At any rate it was assumed the American reply will have the approval of Great Britain, France, Italy and of all the other co-belligerents.

The words "unconditional surrender" may not appear in the answer. The absence of the words likely will not detract from its forcefulness. Nothing less than the terms laid down will be accepted.

Feeling that coincident with or closely following the dispatch of the reply President Wilson will address congress persisted today, although with absolutely no official confirmation. It was thought probable that the President might deem it advisable to reveal to the people of America and the people of the Allied nations the resolution underlying the decision reached.

COPENHAGEN, Monday, Oct. 7.—The Lokal Anzeiger of Berlin says that two of President Wilson's points must be considered rejected—the separation of Alsace Lorraine from Germany and the incorporation of independent Poland of Prussian Poland.

STOCKHOLM, Monday, Oct. 7.—Bulgaria's withdrawal from the war and subsequent peace developments have played havoc with Scandinavian shipping stocks. Newspapers estimate that 100 war millionaires have been wiped out by the break in shipping securities alone.

FRENCH AIDING ALLENBY IN GREAT ACHIEVEMENT
PARIS, Oct. 5.—Announcement of the landing of French naval forces at Beirut is enthusiastically received by the public which is gratified that the French fleet has a share in the magnificent achievement of General Allenby.

BRITISH-AMERICAN ATTACK ON CAMBRAI LINE
LONDON, Oct. 5.—English and American troops attacked this morning on the front between St. Quentin and Cambrai. Field Marshal Haig announced today. Satisfactory progress is being made. The field marshal states.

In successful local operations near Montbrechain and Beaurevoir on this front yesterday more than 200 prisoners were taken by American and English troops.

Today's attack was launched just before daybreak during a heavy rain which began last night.

FRENCH REACH JUNCTION OF AISNE AND SUIPPE
PARIS, Oct. 5.—Northeast and north of Rheims the French continued their successful advance. The war office announcement today says that French troops have reached the outskirts of Conde-sur-Suippe at the junction of the Suippe and the Aisne northeast of Berry-au-Bac.

Along the Suippe river the French have penetrated into Isles-sur-Suippe Germans Rapidly Evacuating the Belgian Coast; Telephone Lines Are Taken Down; Preparation Made to Blow Up Factories in the Region.

By Associated Press.

LONDON, Oct. 5.—Renewing major operations on the center of the line from the Meuse to the North Sea, British and American troops today are passing into the rear defenses of the Hindenburg line between St. Quentin and Cambrai.

While Field Marshal Haig is attacking on the 20-mile front north of St. Quentin the French along the Suippe continued their progress northward towards the German communication lines despite strong enemy resistance. The French have reached the junction of the Suippe and Aisne rivers and have forced their way into two large towns on the middle of the Suippe.

Successful continuation of the French advance, northeast of Rheims is menacing the securing of the Laon massif. After capturing Berry-au-Bac the French are fighting their way into Conde-sur-Suippe at the junction of the Aisne and Suippe.

EVACUATION OF BELGIUM CONTINUES

AMSTERDAM, Oct. 5.—The evacuation by the Germans of the Belgian coast region is continuing, the frontier correspondent of the Telegraaf reports. The telephone lines between the frontier and the coast were being taken down yesterday and today.

The stores of material at Knokke, near the coast, five miles from the Dutch border, have been set on fire, the reports state, and many factories have been undermined in preparation for their quick destruction.

FREEMAN SENDS CARD

West Side Parents Fear From Son in German Prison Camp.

Mr. and Mrs. George Freeman, of the West Side, yesterday received a card from their son, Frank E. Freeman, who was captured by the Germans in the Marne offensive on July 15 and who has since been in the prison camp at Landsenbala. The card was mailed July 30 and contains the following statement: "I am a prisoner of war in Germany. I am in good health. Do not write to me until you receive my complete address." Following the telegraphic notification by the War Department that Frank was missing the parents on August 20 received word from the Red Cross that he was a prisoner at the camp named. Frank was one of the four members of the Medical Detachment of the 110th Infantry taken prisoner in the Marne drive.

The handwriting on the card is that of his son, Mr. Freeman said, it convincing him that Frank was alive and well on the date mentioned.

MARKLETON HOSPITAL TO BE MADE READY FOR USE DURING WINTER MONTHS

Work on carrying out the original program of the government for increasing the capacity of the Markleton hospital will begin immediately, and a steam heating plant will also be installed in order to make it possible to use the institution during the coming winter. Captain Hyman Rosensohn, construction quartermaster, has arrived from Washington to take charge of the work.

The first work will be the installation of a steam heating plant for the entire hospital. There is no heat at Markleton at present and unless provision was made to warm it this winter it would not be possible to keep patients there.

In addition to the heating plant the remainder of the program proposed last spring will be carried out. When work at the hospital stopped in June only three of the six wards which were to be erected had been built. It is understood that the remaining three wards will be constructed with improvements to the hospital included.

When the work is completed it will be possible to take care of 500 to 600 patients. At present there are about 150 men at the hospital. All the soldiers sent to the hospital are tubercular patients from training camps and also from overseas service. At times during this summer there were more than 200 soldiers located at the hospital.

It had been rumored here that the Markleton hospital was to be abandoned as a government institution on account of the weather conditions. The installation of the heating plant will overcome this objectionable feature however.

FRANK LINDLEY IS SENTENCED TO 12 TO 20 YEARS

Reiterates Innocence of Charge of Slaying Frank A. Burkey.

FINANCES ARE EXHAUSTED

An indeterminate term of 12 to 20 years in the Western Penitentiary was the sentence pronounced this morning in court in Uniontown on Frank M. Lindley, who was convicted of murder in the second degree for killing his former business partner, Frank A. Burkey, in the latter's office in the Second National Bank building, Connellsville, last December 18. Judge J. Q. Van Swearingen passed sentence. Apparently unmoved by the probable fate awaiting him Lindley, in reply to the court's inquiry as to what he had to say as to why sentence should not be pronounced, reiterated the assertion that he is entirely innocent of the crime.

Previously Lindley's motion for a new trial had been refused.

Pleas for leniency were made by Attorney W. C. McKean and D. W. McDonald. The decision rendered by the court at this time will be final, Attorney McKean said, for the reason that his defense thus far has more than exhausted Lindley's finances and he has no means whereby to make an appeal. Mr. McDonald emphasized the statements of Mr. McKean.

INFLUENZA ORDER STIRS UP TROUBLE AT MT. PLEASANT

Elks' Club Management Ignores Health Commissioner's Mandate.

OFFICERS LOCK DOORS

Club Members Appeal to District Attorney But Lock Remains: Health Commissioner Threatens to Send State Police to Enforce His Ruling.

Special to The Courier.
MOUNT PLEASANT, Oct. 5.—Alleged refusal of the management of the Elks' club to comply with the closing order of State Commissioner of Health Dr. B. Franklin Royer, has stirred up a "hornet's nest" here. Acting on instructions from the State Department of Health the local Board of Health requested the closing of 15 clubs on Sunday. As said, the Elks' club remained open. Yesterday President J. W. Shelar and Secretary M. A. King got into communication with Dr. Royer by long distance telephone and received orders from the commissioner that if the club ignored the closing order to secure a padlock and place it on the door.

Following out the instructions the health officials locked the place. Members of the club became indignant and called District Attorney N. A. Cort at Greensburg, who ordered that the lock be removed. President Shelar and Secretary King declined to budge from their stand and the lock remains. The district attorney, it is stated, told the health officials that if they did not remove the lock he would do so himself. However, he did not carry out the threat.

In his conversation over the telephone Dr. Royer informed the two health board officials that if they were "not big enough" to enforce the order he would have state policemen sent to the scene. He instructed President Shelar to have an officer placed at the entrance to the club in event of the lock being removed and to arrest any who attempted to pass.

Dr. Shelar was notified last evening by Justice of the Peace J. R. Walker that information had been made against himself and Secretary King. What the nature of the charge was could not be learned today as Justice Walker was not at his office. It was understood the cases were echoes of the locking of the Elks' club.

Burgess S. Stevens took a hand in the controversy by instructing Chief of Police Robert Smith to see that the order is obeyed fully as regards the closing of the clubs.

Information has been made by Chief Smith before Justice Walker against Terrence Donnelly, proprietor of an East End hotel, for the alleged sale of liquors after the closing order went into effect. There will be a hearing this evening.

TWO MORE CASES OF SPANISH PLAGUE REPORTED IN CITY

Man at Snyderstown and Other in Porter Avenue Victims.

"GENUINE," SAYS DOCTOR

Two new cases of the Spanish influenza have developed in this city, and both patients are reported as "very sick." V. L. Showman of Snyderstown and C. H. Lincoln of Porter avenue are the latest victims.

Both men are under the care of Dr. J. L. Cochran, who says their illness is genuine influenza of the type that is now prevalent in the country. Neither patient has developed any complications.

Showman became ill on a Baltimore and One train on his way here from Snyderstown, Pa. On his arrival in the city he went to the office of Dr. Cochran. After a visit to the Showman home this morning Dr. Cochran reported him as being very ill.

In addition to the two bad cases several others of mild grip are reported by physicians. Persons who may be developing the disease are advised to get to bed immediately and summon a physician.

The theatres, poolrooms and barrooms in the city are still closed and no public meetings are being conducted anywhere.

The school authorities are carefully watching for signs of sickness among the students and all pupils with coughs or colds are being sent home as a preventive measure. The school attendance has not been materially decreased. There are five teachers out on account of colds.

PITTSBURG BREWERY CLOSES; FIRE WHISTLE FOLLOWS THE DEPARTMENT TO WEST SIDE

The general fire alarm whistles will be moved to the West Side some time this week and placed on the plant of the Yough Ice & Cold Storage company. The whistles have been for years connected at the Pittsburgh Brewing company in McCormick avenue, but with the closing down of this plant it has been necessary to locate them elsewhere.

Arrangements were made last week with the ice company by Superintendent of Public Safety M. H. Pryce for the transfer of the whistles and the change will take place in a few days.

The whistle of the Garwood Fire Alarm system will be connected directly to the steam pipes as it is blown automatically when a box is "pulled" anywhere in the city.

The "wild cat" whistle which is operated by a rope will also be placed

LIEUTENANT ROBINSON HIT

Officer of Company D Will be in Hospital for Several Weeks, Letter Home Indicates; Degree of Hurts of Medical Men Are Unknown.

Major R. S. McKee, of the 110th Medical Detachment and others of the same detachment were wounded, degree undetermined, according to telegrams arriving here this morning from the War Department.

Major McKee was wounded in action on September 9. On September 10 he had written a field service card to Mrs. McKee, stating he was well.

Sergeant Charles A. McCormick, of the Medical Detachment, was wounded on the same date as Major McKee, according to a telegram, received this morning from the War Department by his mother Mrs. Thomas Cunningham of East Apple street. The degree of his wounds are undetermined. Sergeant McCormick in a letter to his mother under the date of August 28 said that he had been in a cellar for the past 17 days and that the shells from a German one-pounder were bursting about 30 feet from the cellar where they were located. He said he had crossed the street and back once, running both ways. The suggestion is that Sergeant McCormick was wounded at the same time as Private McCormick.

Private George B. McCormick was wounded on the same date, degree undetermined, his mother, Mrs. Clara McCormick of West Fayette street being officially notified this morning by the War Department. Writing to a friend here from a base hospital about September 15th, Private McCormick said he had been gassed and for a few days was blinded. His sight is all right now, according to his letter and he is getting along nicely. McCormick stated that he and others were in a cellar and a shell from a German gun knocked the door in. They were gassed while they were fixing the door, but did not know it until about two hours afterwards. McCormick said he expected to be back on duty before the several others who were wounded at the same time.

John E. Stubble received a telegram last night from the War Department stating that his son, Private John W. Stubble was wounded in action on September 9, degree undetermined. Mr. and Mrs. Stubble received a letter from their son, written on September 9, stating that he had been gassed, affecting his eyes but was getting along nicely in the hospital. "Bill," as he is better known among his many friends, is a member of the Medical Detachment.

Lieutenant John L. Robinson of Company D, 110th Infantry, was wounded in the hip on September 5, according to a cablegram sent by the wounded soldier to his father, H. L. Robinson, of Uniontown. It stated: "Hit in the hip September 5. Feeling fine. Will be up in three weeks."

Lieutenant Robinson's gallant conduct in action already has resulted in his citation for bravery.

His brother, Lieutenant Charles Robinson has been in a hospital at one of the French summer resorts suffering from a severe attack of the grip. He was taken ill while doing his turn in the trenches but refused to leave his post of duty until his command was relieved. In a letter written on September 10 he said that he was getting along fine and expected to rejoin his regiment soon.

FURS FOR FALL & 1918 WINTER 1919

This if you please will be the greatest fur season in many years. The styles of Paris and New York have no hesitancy at all in saying it, and practical as well as patriotic and economic considerations tend that way.

Furs keep the cold out—that's what they are for—though we hear some facetious gentlemen whisper something to the effect that "one wouldn't think so when they wear them on July 4th."

Then the government is conserving wool for the army and navy, and a fur coat saves that much wool yardage.

Again there is nothing that looks more becoming or that is so stylish and exactly right in winter, as furs.

So we usher in the greatest fur season with the greatest fur stocks carried in this store.

Our important word then is to SEE THE FUR DISPLAY tomorrow if possible.

KILLED BY TRUCK

Grandson of Mrs. P. M. Buttermore Fatally Hurt at Greensburg.

While on his way to the store yesterday afternoon about 1 o'clock, James William Buttermore, about 13 years old, son of Frank and Margaret Buttermore of Greensburg, former well known residents of Connelville, was run down by a big auto truck, driven by a man named Fox, and so badly injured that he died while on his way to the Greensburg hospital.

The deceased was born in the West Side and is a grandson of Mrs. P. M. Buttermore of the West Side, and has a number of other relatives here. His mother is absent from home being called to San Francisco, Cal., about three weeks ago by the illness of her mother. In addition to his parents he is survived by two sisters, Mrs. W. M. Itam, Mrs. Frank Saunders, and one brother, Providence Buttermore, all of Greensburg. Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Buttermore, an uncle and aunt of the boy, went to Greensburg yesterday afternoon on receiving word of the accident.

SCOTSDALE BOY ILL.

George T. Freeman Down With Influenza at Camp Lee.

Mr. and Mrs. George O. Freeman, of Scottdale, received word that their son, George T. Freeman, was seriously ill of pneumonia resulting from Spanish influenza, at Camp Lee. His recovery is said to be doubtful. Freeman is a brother of Mrs. William O. Conrad of Market street, Scottdale.

Of Deep Historic Interest.

When Jacob died in Egypt "Joseph commanded his servants, the physicians, to embalm his father; and the physicians embalmed Israel." This passage from Genesis has now an added interest. If the body of Jacob was embalmed in the Egyptian manner, it ought now, when Hebron (with the cave Machpelah, where Jacob was buried) is in British hands, to be found possibly with Joseph's inscriptions.

The Grim Reaper

MRS. EMMA WILSON.

Following a brief illness of pneumonia, Mrs. Emma Wilson, 68 years old, one of the best known residents of Connelville, died last night at 11 o'clock at her home, 604 Trump avenue. She contracted pneumonia last Thursday. Funeral services will be held from the family residence Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with Rev. Wilbur Nelson, of the First Baptist church, assisting. Interment will be in Chestnut Hill cemetery. Mrs. Wilson was born in Uniontown, a daughter of the late Squire Richard and Harriett Campbell. She had been a resident of Connelville virtually all her life and was highly esteemed by her wide circle of friends. Her husband, John Wilson, died 14 years ago. Mrs. Wilson was a member of the First Baptist church for many years and took a great interest in church work. She is survived by four children: Mrs. H. C. Richter, Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Frank C. Fuller, Baltimore; Harry and George Wilson, both of Connelville.

residents of Connelville. The young man's mother is also very ill. In addition to his parents he is survived by his widow, three sisters and one brother. He has a number of friends in Connelville.

Combined Effort.
The great artist who paints a picture which compels the admiration of the world does not do so with one sweep of the brush in one moment of inspiration. The great masterpiece is the product of thousands of strokes of the brush, of infinitesimal bits of pigment put on the canvas layer after layer, each done with consummate art. Every tiny bit of paint, every swift stroke does its tiny part toward what becomes at last a marvel of ages. So must we work, stroke by stroke, a bit here and a bit there, until our masterpiece has been completed.

Daily Thought.
Every person is responsible for all the good within the scope of his abilities, and for no more, and none can tell whose sphere is the largest.—Gail Hamilton.

Be Sure It's Worth It.
Who would boast a victory that cost no strategy and no careful disposition of the forces? But let a man be very sure that the city is worth the step.—H. Marvel.

JOHN W. KINCAID WRITES

TO MOTHER FROM FRANCE
In a letter to his mother, Mrs. J. R. Kincaid, of Gibson avenue, Connelldale, John W. Kincaid, of the American Forces in France, has the following to say:

"I have again moved to another camp, and it won't be long before I again move. I have seen some beautiful parts of France but where I am now will never again look as it did. They can fill up the shell craters but they can't rebuild the historical units which are destroyed. There are numerous souvenirs to buy and they are very pretty as you can see. We received our pay in French money and we have quite a time to understand prices. The way we do is pull out a hand full of chicken feed probably amounting to fifty cents and they pick out what they want. This handkerchief is worth three francs, or 60 cents in our money."

"I met two boys from Connelldale. One was James I. Balsley and the other was a Mulvihill boy. They are at the front now, where I will be in a few days. I have seen many P. O. on my trip through France, but I did not get a glimpse of Paris and that was what I was praying for. I wanted to have my picture taken but did not have frames enough so had to wait until I did and then we moved, but if I have a chance I shall pose for de grande prix. You comprise? We are resting at this camp for a few days before going out blind, but when we start again it's Berlin or bust. We all know it will be Berlin. I am enjoying good health and getting stouter all the time. I have already collected a few souvenirs but have not as yet got a helmet."

What consideration is due the Potomac gang of ruffians that the answer of the Allies to their impudent plea for peace should not be made in the short and forceful terms, "unconditional surrender," as Washington dispatches states will not be employed?

The war has demonstrated no fact more clearly than that force is the only argument that Germany can understand. Her armies in the field have refused to yield until they have felt the crushing power and might of the Allies, it is not to be expected, while still in possession of vast areas of the enemy country, that Germany will be a whit more susceptible to soft words, rounded phrases or gentle suggestion on a statement of peace terms.

If the peace overtures had been designed in good faith to affect a real peace, instead of serving military purposes only, there might be necessity for delicacy in dealing with the situation. But being another clever but ill-disguised ruse to afford opportunity to improve the military situation so that Germany might be able to again take the offensive which Hindenburg lost to Foch, the present is no time for polite palaver. It is, though, the time for plain spoken truth: time to call things by their right names; time to give exact definitions to terms; time to make unequivocal statements that can admit of no misunderstanding or misconception, not even by the skilled phrase jugglers of Germany.

There is no occasion to be unnecessarily rude in reply to Germany's insincerity but there are 1,846,000 reasons in France and many times that number in America why the answer conveyed to the Imperial government at Berlin should be so unmistakably plain that no interpretation short of "unconditional surrender" can be placed upon it.

U. S. A. means "Unconditional Surrender Always" just as much, if not considerably more, today than it meant when General Grant penned that little missive to General Buell 55 years ago. When you recall the events of our history you will be reminded that it has always and that meaning.

There must be no strain to the peace answer except a rope to hang the Kaiser.

Confidence is a good thing but overconfidence is never better. The best thing is to buy bonds.

Senator Knute Nelson was right when he said, "Leave it to Foch to deal with the Hun."

There's no speed limit to speeding up the bond subscription.

Of course the Kaiser did not know that we had a Liberty Loan campaign on hand when he spring "my peace offer." It was there, coincidental, of course; something like the coincidence of the Lusitania getting in the way of an escaped torpedo or floating mine.

The more bonds you buy the more confidence you have in the complete success of the Fourth Liberty Loan.

The gun that was known to be loaded when left within reach of children, is just as dangerous as the "didn't know it was loaded" kind.

There's no need to cable Pershing to ask what answer the boys in the trenches would make to the Hun's "peace."

Now is the time when America expects Congress and official Washington to "stand behind the boys in France" and "stand by the people at home."

Hindenburg is determined to have a piece of his own even if he has to resign to get it. That is another hint to the Kaiser how he, too, may secure the loan.

Buy another bond so that the Kaiser will be put under bond.

LET'S STOP THEM!

It is to STOP the dreadful casualty lists "QUICKLY" that we ask every man, woman and child in Conneltsville to buy Liberty Bonds to be limit of their means.

YOUR great opportunity to help end this terrible war has come! In God's name do your full part!

Don't make EXCUSES—make SACRIFICES.

Christmas Parcels for Prisoners of War

How, What and When to Send

The American Red Cross is desirous of aiding in every possible way the American prisoners of war, and has decided to arrange for shipment of gifts from the families of prisoners so that they will arrive for Christmas in the prison camps.

If the families of American prisoners of war confined in German and Austrian prison camps desire to send to them a special parcel for Christmas, the American Red Cross has made the following regulations for forwarding such parcels.

Packages must not weigh more than eleven pounds and may be sent addressed to the prisoner at the camp where he is confined as follows:

(Private) John Smith (1st Infantry)
American Prisoner of War,
Kriegsgefangenenlager,
(Name of Camp) (Name of Province)
Germany (or-Austria)

This parcel should have an outer wrapping addressed as follows:
Warehouse,
Atlantic Division, American Red Cross,
20 E. 15th Street, New York City, N. Y.

In the upper left hand corner "Christmas Package for American Prisoner of War from" (give name and address of sender).

Upon receipt in New York, packages will be forwarded, free of charge to the sender, to the American Red Cross Commissioner at Bern, Switzerland, and, from there distributed to the prisoners.

Only one package may be sent to each prisoner, and preference will be given to packages sent by the family of the prisoner. Others desiring to send packages should first consult the family. As the postal regulations permit the sending of but one package a month the families taking advantage of this offer will necessarily omit any package which they intended sending in the month of December, but of course are not restricted from sending a package any other month. It will also be permitted to enclose a simple card of Christmas greeting, or a message such as, "We are all well at home."

In addition to gifts from the family, the American Red Cross has arranged to present each American prisoner with a box of cigars as a Christmas present from the Red Cross.

These packages must be sent by express or parcel post, prepaid to arrive before October 15, 1918. They may contain any of the following articles: Belts (not made of leather), brushes (hair, hand, tooth, shaving and shoe), buttons, candy (hard), cigars, cigarettes, comb, crackers or biscuits, gloves (not made of leather), handkerchiefs, knives (pocket), needles and thread, pencils, pens, penholders, pins, pipes, safety razors and blades, shaving soap, powder or cream (toilet), socks, underwear, sweaters, tooth powder (paste or liquid mouth wash), towels, personal photographs, periodicals published prior to beginning of the war, fruit cake, plum pudding, candied fruit, chocolate, cocoa, chewing gum, dried fruit, desiccated potatoes, cereals, such as puffed rice, grape nuts, etc., fruit tablets, such as lemon or lime drops, etc., knitted helmets, felt slippers, mouth organs and insect powder.

BRIDE & BATTLE

A Romance of the
AMERICAN ARMY
Fighting on the Battlefields of FRANCE

Copyright, 1918, by W. G. Chapman

"You found a course of action," answered Mark, torn between the desire to return blow for blow and to do justice to Kellerman, whose story left him doubtful and wondering.

"Will you accept my frank apology?" asked Kellerman, extending his hand.

Mark took it. "I will, Major Kellerman," he answered. And he made his way to the door of the dugout, with a feeling of warmth in his heart such as he had not known for many a month. He believed Kellerman—and yet . . . but he fought down his instinct and still believed him.

CHAPTER XIII.

No word had come of any project of attack on the morning. In this the sergeant's prediction had probably proved false; yet the feeling in the air of something impending seemed to have communicated itself to the enemy's lines.

A wiring party and a listening post party were out from the American trenches, and Mark was on duty with three others of the stretcher-bearers' company, ready for a call.

A corporal was at the dugout door. "Stretcher-bearers!" he whispered.

The four men were on their feet immediately, two stretchers ready.

"A man hit between the lines," said the corporal. "You've got to bring him in. You can see him from this loop-hole."

Mark stepped upon the sentry's platform and saw, indistinct in the darkness, a huddled form about half-way to the German trenches.

Then he heard Kellerman's voice at his side.

"A man of the—th got hit," he said. "Bring him in, Weston. Make a quick job of it. Corporal Buines, you'll take charge. You two will be ready to take out your stretcher in case anything happens," he added to the two others.

The corporal led the way, crouching, toward the gap in the wires. They passed two lines, traversed a diagonal lane, and emerged beyond the third into the open. The body of the wounded man, which had disappeared, came into light, a black patch under the stars.

"Get down!" whispered the corporal. They flung themselves to the ground, and proceeded to wriggle forward, under his directions, pushing the stretcher as noiselessly as possible across the rough ground in an exclamation.

"What the devil's he sent us on this job for?" he demanded truculently. "Shut up, you fool!" whispered the corporal hoarsely.

"That ain't the man. He's been there these past three days. Dutchman he is; every listening post party knows him. What's the good of bringing him in? He ain't got no head to him."

"What you talking about?" snarled the corporal. "That's the man the Major said, and there ain't no other in sight. Told!"

They flattened themselves as a rocket burst into the air above the German lines.

Then the machine gun burst forth. "Rat-tat-tat-tat!" sang the bullets overhead.

They swished through the grass and rattled on the ground. No answer came from the section of the American line immediately behind the defenders, but on each side there came answering volleys, making the air an inferno of crackling death. Then, gradually, the alarm subsided. The rocket showers died down.

"Now, boys!" whispered the corporal.

They crawled onward. The huddled form came into clear view. The body seemed to be already blending with the earth, melting into formlessness; and there was no need to wonder whether this was of a dead or wounded man.

The corporal swore.

"I told you so!" mumbled Mark's companion. "I told you so. What's he sent us here for, the fool?"

His words ended in a gurgle. From behind the shelter of the corps leaped five men. Noiselessly they flung themselves upon the party of three. Mark felt a pistol at his temple.

"Surrender!" hissed a voice in his ear.

In a flash he realized the trap. The three were unarmed, noncombatants; it was a counter-raid—and Kellerman had known that the enemy were abroad that night and suspected their rendezvous.

He saw his two companions being dragged, unresisting, toward the German lines. Three men were with them; besides his immediate antagonist there was only one other figure in the immediate vicinity, and that one had half turned away.

And the thought of the infernal trap goaded Mark to madness. As his captor, never suspecting resistance on his part, let the muzzle of the pistol droop, Mark drew back his hand and struck upward with all his might.

He felt the burn of the powder as the discharged bullet sped under his chin, he heard the startled cry of the Germans; and then a furious outburst of machine-gun fire came from the trenches opposite. Two very lights went up, revealing the two struggling men to the sentries on either side.

Mark saw a powerful man, a sergeant, he thought, with close-cropped yellow hair and the body of a Hercules. The man dashed at him, striking madly with his bare fists. The two fought amid a hailstorm of bullets.

Suddenly the German uttered a choking cry and dropped, blood spurting from his throat, where a chance bullet had found him. As he fell, Mark precipitated himself upon him and lay flat on the ground.

The firing died away. Captain Mark began to crawl toward the parapet of his lines. A whispered challenge, an answer, and he had scaled the sandbags and descended into the mud of the trench, to find the firing posts crowded and himself facing Kellerman and the company captain.

Inwardly boiling, he stood still. It was too dark to see the expression on Kellerman's face, but he could imagine the sneering grin that disgraced it.

"Well!" said Kellerman sharply. "The man you sent me to bring in was dead. He had been there for days."

"Where are your companions?" demanded Kellerman.

"Captured."

"And you?"

"We were attacked in the dark. I fought with my men until a bullet killed him. The others were taken."

"And your stretcher?" asked Kellerman with a bland sneer.

"I left it between the lines. Do you wish me to go back for it, sir?"

"This man is lying," said Kellerman to the Captain calmly. "He abandoned his companions and ran away. He lost his stretcher. Put him under arrest."

The Captain beckoned to the platoon sergeant, who came forward.

"I'd like to say one thing," said Mark, striving to keep his voice steady. "We three were sent out to bring in a dead man, who had been dead for days—anyone here will bear me out in this. Was any man wounded tonight? There was only one body in this section."

"Cut it out!" said the sergeant, laying his hand on Mark's shoulder.

But Mark swung clear of him and turned and faced Kellerman again. "You sent me out tonight to put me out of the way!" he cried, losing all self-control. "For reasons that you know, and I know, you wanted me dead, and you were willing to send two others to their death also. You lied to me to put me off my guard, and here you, my treacherous dog! And here's the blow you gave, back again!"

He struck Kellerman a buffet that sent him reeling back against the parapet.

CHAPTER XIV.

The three officers who had brought in their verdict, and the fourth, of high rank, who had passed the sentence, stood rather stiffly at the door of the little headquarters village house, watching Mark as, with hands chained, he was marched away by two armed guards toward the jail.

When he was out of sight they unbent.

"Don't it?" said one.

"My sentiments," answered another. "What do you think, McKinnon?"

"I don't want to think about it."

"If it had been some tough who had got roped into the army—a gunman or that sort—but—"

"Well, if the fellow's a gentleman, why did he do it? He must have known."

"And, after all, he might have been respected for the blow, but the gross cowardice—"

"I don't see that. The blow was worse than the cowardice. A new hand, between the lines at night, his first night—Kellerman shouldn't have sent him—"

"I don't follow you there. Kellerman had known the man in the U. S. and wanted to give him a chance to redeem himself."

SALTS IF BACKACHE AND KIDNEYS HURT

Stop Eating Meat for a While if Your Bladder is Troubling You.

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which over-works the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and sluggish. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels; removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is a life saver for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink.—Adv.

HOW RHEUMATISM BEGINS

The excruciating agonies of rheumatism are usually the result of failure of the kidneys to expel poisons from the system. In a majority of cases rheumatism is an indication that uric acid has pervaded the system. If the filtration of these uric acid crystals is allowed to continue, incurable bladder or kidney disease may result. Attend to it at once. Don't resort to temporary relief. The sick kidneys must be restored to health by the use of some sterling remedy which will prevent a return of the disease.

Get some GOLD MEDAL Hamlet Oil Capsules immediately. They are a standard world-famous medicine in use for over two hundred years. They have brought back the joys of life to countless thousands of sufferers from rheumatism, lame back, lumbago, sciatica, gall stones, gravel and other afflictions of the kidneys, liver, stomach, bladder and allied organs. They will attack the poisons at once, clear out the kidneys and urinary tract and the soothing healing oils and herbs will restore the inflamed tissues and organs to normal health.

GOLD MEDAL is the original Hamlet Oil Medicated direct from the home laboratories in Hamlet, Holland, by the Genuine Hamlet Oil Mfg. Co., Hamlet, Holland, American office, 116 Beekman St., N. Y.

All others are imitations. Ask for GOLD MEDAL and be sure the name GOLD MEDAL is on the box. Three sizes, at all good druggists.—Adv.

"Gott Mit Uns"

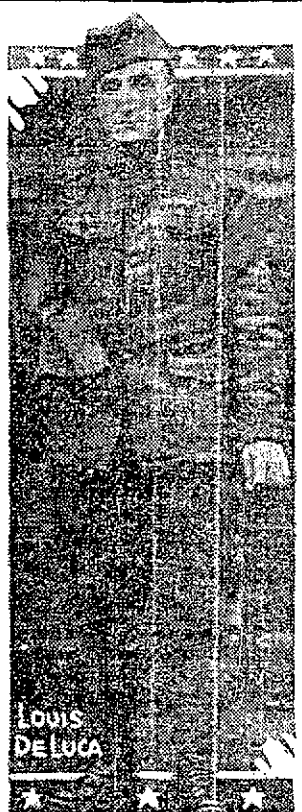

DOES it make your blood boil every time you hear that phrase above? Do you figuratively foam at the mouth when you see the blasphemous engraving on a belt buckle worn by one of the murderers of the Hohenzollern armies?

There is an outlet for this justifiable wrath of yours.

Liberty Bonds are selling here for $50 and $100, and $1,000. Just how angry are you? Just how much are you outraged by the tribe of savages who emblazon their trappings with "Gott Mit Uns?"

Hero Is With Trophy Train

AMERICANS are show-me folks. They want definite, specific, graphic examples shown them.

Here is Louis De Luca, a certain example of sacrifice.

He is with the Liberty Bond Trophy Train now touring Ohio, Pennsylvania and Kentucky.

De Luca is twenty-eight and lived in Boston before he went a-hunting Hun.

He fought, and fought hard, in the 23rd Infantry in the 2nd division of the American army.

In Chateau Thierry, June 4, after he'd been fighting six months, a Hun bullet shattered his left arm.

That's the way with all those who are giving themselves and their bodies in this fight.

Can a whole-hearted person see such sacrifice—such willing sacrifice—without getting to his toes and pledging his limit in Liberty Bonds?

When You Fight—Fight

FIGHT as these American soldiers fought in the streets of Fismes. "They covered themselves with glory," the papers say. Of course they did—they are Americans.

They met the finest of the enemy's troops in a terrific hand-to-hand struggle. They used their guns—their bayonets—their bare fists. Every American soldier went after his man desperately, fearlessly, persistently, with one great driving purpose—to whip that Prussian Guard, to silence its machine guns—to win!

It's a pretty good way to fight—this American way. It wins battles over there, it will win a splendid victory over here—if we fight when we fight—if we buy Liberty Bonds to our utmost.

SCOTSDALE, Oct. 8.—The Scottsdale Board of Health Sunday afternoon adopted resolutions that all clubs and lodges close and discontinue all meetings or gatherings until such time as it may see fit to lift the quarantine. The closing of the schools was left up to the President and secretary of the school board and if these gentlemen see fit to close the schools this will be allright with the Board of Health.
Teachers were given stringent orders to send all children home who showed signs of colds or coughs.
The annual medical inspection is on in the schools here and this is one of the very best times it could have been conducted. At least 25 or 30 children were sent home yesterday following the examinations in the Pittsburg and Chestnut streets schools.

Two cases of influenza have been officially reported to the local board and there are a number of very suspicious cases around. As yet there has been nothing really serious but every precaution has been taken. All mid-week prayer services and mis-gatherings have been postponed.

Goebel Suffered Great Pain, Which

There are scores of residents of Erie who are familiar with the condition of Louis Goebel, the well-known carpenter and all have sympathized sincerely with him in his sufferings.

Mr. Goebel exhibited an ugly cross-like scar on the outer surface of the abdomen.

"That is what the surgeons did for me. I was in the hospital for three months. They thought I had gall stones in my bladder, and I was told that the inflammation substances had overflowed to my stomach.

"They operated on me. Yes sir, cut me open, and after all that suffering I had no results from the operation.

"I have been unable to work for a long time. Nearly everybody who knows me, knows that I am telling the gospel truth. Yes sir, this Tanlac has done what the knife couldn't do for me. I have used one single bottle of Tanlac and I feel like a new man. I am improving every day, getting my strength back. I expect to continue taking this Tanlac and I'm going back to work soon. This Tanlac has done more for me than everything else combined, and I have taken, I guess, barrels of medicine. It's certainly like a miracle.

Tanlac is now sold in Connellsville exclusively by the Connellsville Drug Co., Beighley's Pharmacy, and F. H. Harmoning, where the premier preparation can be had.—Adv.

MANY PENNSYLVANIA DOCTORS ARE SERVING THEIR COUNTRY IN WAR

Over One-fourth Already in the Service: Druggists, Dentists and Veterinarians Not So Ready.

As in every previous American war, Pennsylvania physicians and surgeons have now come forward in gallant style to serve their country.

There are in this state 10,872 doctors of whom 3,098 by reason of age and other causes are unfitted for war service. Of the remainder 2,872 had been commissioned by the United States government up to September, and 4,902 others stood ready to don a uniform.

From Philadelphia alone 713 physicians and surgeons have been commissioned and Allegheny county has contributed 551.

Twenty-three per cent of Philadelphia's doctors have been recommended for war or navy commissions and 37 per cent of Allegheny county's. For the state at large 26 per cent of the physicians and surgeons have been recommended.

Of the 2,036 druggists in the state, 210 signified a willingness to get into the war and 1,363 said they were unwilling. If urgently needed, 246 others would go.

There are in Pennsylvania 2,756 dentists and of these 375 said they would apply for war work, and 165 others declared they would serve if urgently needed, while 1,814 said they would not offer their services.

Of the 664 veterinarians in the state, 91 announced that they were willing to go into the Army to care for horses and mules, but 443 said they were unwilling.

The figures show that a much larger percentage of physicians and surgeons are eager to get into the war than are dentists, druggists and veterinarians.

NO MORE CATARRH

Get Rid of That Sourness, Gas and Indigestion.

Catarrh cures come and catarrh cures go, but Hyemol continues to heal catarrh, and abolish its disgusting symptoms wherever civilization exists. Every year the already enormous sales of this really scientific treatment for catarrh grow greater, and the present year should show all records broken.

If you breathe Hyemol daily as directed it will end your catarrh, or it won't cost you a cent.

If you have a hard rubber Hyemol Inhaler somewhere around the house, get it out and start it at once to forever rid yourself of catarrh. A. A. Clarke, or any other good druggist, will sell you a bottle of Hyemol (liquid), start to breathe it and notice how quickly it clears out the air passages and makes the entire head feel fine.

Hyemol used regularly will end catarrh, coughs, colds, bronchitis, or asthma. A complete outfit, including a hard rubber "pucker" inhaler and bottle of Hyemol, costs but little. No stomach distress; just breathe it. It kills the germs, soothes and heals the inflamed membrane.—Adv.
